Wisdom from the Ethics of the Fathers

Beloved is man
For he was created in the divine image.
A person who brings pleasure to other human beings,
Thereby brings delight
to the Creator.
If I am not for myself,
who will be for me?
But if I am only for myself, what am I?
And if not now, when?
Say little and do much,
And greet everyone with
a cheerful face.
Be a disciple of Aaron, Loving peace and
pursuing peace,
Loving your fellow-men,
And drawing them near to the Torah.
Do not separate yourself
from the community;
Judge not another until
you are in his place.
He who shames his fellow-man in public
Is not worthy of a share
in the world to come.
Who is wise?
He who learns from everyone.
Who is strong?
He who controls his passions.
Who is rich?
He who rejoices in his portion.
Who is honorable?
He who honors his fellow-men.

The world is sustained
by three things:
By truth, by justice,
and by peace.
It is not your duty to finish the work,
But neither are you at liberty to neglect it.
