Justice, justice shall
you pursue,
That you may live in your land.

Love your neighbor as yourself;

Hate not your brother in your heart.

If a stranger sojourns
with you,

He shall be as the native among you;

You shall love him as yourself,
For you were strangers
in the land of Egypt.

Have we not all one Father?

Has not one God
created us?

Why then do
we deal treacherously,

A man against his brother?

Give of your bread to
the hungry;

Bring the poor that are cast out to your house.

Hate evil and
love what is good,

Yea, establish
justice in the land.

Let justice well up as water,

And righteousness as a mighty stream;

For
righteousness and justice

Are the foundation of God's throne.

The Lord of hosts is exalted through righteousness,
And God, the Holy One,
is sanctified through
justice.

The word "Shalom" is written in a large, stylized, cursive font. Each letter is a different color, creating a rainbow effect: S (red), h (orange), a (yellow), l (green), o (blue), m (purple). The word has a soft, grey shadow cast beneath it, giving it a three-dimensional appearance.
